

D. C. HOME RULERS SEE VICTORY NEAR

Hail Costello Appointment as Encouraging a Precedent. Delegates for Marshall.

The appointment of John F. Costello as Recorder of Deeds was declared today to be a big feature in the eyes of advocates of "home rule" for the District.

Encouraged by this appointment, which they hope will be the guide for the future, the twelve delegates to the Democratic convention will go to St. Louis Sunday afternoon determined to strongly urge a plank declaring for home rule in the District.

Robert E. Mattingly, chairman of the committee which conducted the Democratic primary here last week, said: "We will work for a precedent in the District, representation in Congress, District positions for District men, and defend the half-and-half fiscal relation plan at every opportunity. We are going to St. Louis to do the very best we can toward securing planks in the platform or pledges from the party leaders insuring betterments for the District and her people."

Will Support Marshall.

Asked if the District delegation would support Vice President Marshall for re-election or would line up with the supporters of Woodrow Wilson, Delegate Mattingly said:

"We are for Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall, first and last and all the time. Mr. Marshall has not only admirably supported the President, but has established a most enviable record for himself, in administering the duties of Vice President. The supporters of Governor Major or any other aspirant for Vice President should be very much ashamed to support him, if they talk to the District delegation."

The twelve men who will represent the District at the St. Louis convention, each with a vote, are: District Commissioner Brownlow, John B. Colpoys, Walter J. Costello, brother of the national committeeman and newly appointed recorder of deeds; Charles W. Darr, James S. Eashy-Smith, Charles A. Douglas, George Erasmus, J. George Killen, Robert Mattingly, J. Southard Parker, Thomas H. Pickford, and Tucker K. Sands.

Although friends of William McK. Clayton said he would contest John F. Costello's right to sit as a national committeeman, and Lorenzo Warfield said he intended to contest his position as "regular Democratic" delegate to St. Louis, Delegate Mattingly said he had received no notification from St. Louis that any contests had been filed.

War Department Must Pay Polo Players' Bill

Comptroller of the Treasury Warfield today ruled that the War Department must pay the expenses of the Fort Myer polo team which went to Camden, N. J., last March to participate in the polo tournaments.

The Fort Myer officers put in a claim of $55.46 for the transportation of themselves, their horses, saddles and equipment to the Southern cities.

The auditor for the War Department refused to pay the claim. The Comptroller today ruled that the officers composing the polo team were ordered to participate in the tournaments and the War Department must pay their expenses.

Names Delegates to Central Labor Union

Delegates to the Central Labor Union have been elected by Columbia Lodge of Machinists, No. 174, as follows: George Linsay, W. W. Keeler, M. A. Alfus, W. Huttie, and C. Lockerman. Arrangements were made at a meeting Wednesday night for the delegates to the Baltimore convention of the International Association of Machinists on the occasion of the dedication of the American Federation of Labor building, July 4. Twenty-five hundred machinists are expected to take part in the parade.

Jury Fails to Agree in Suit Against Hospital

After four hours' deliberation late yesterday, the jury in the damage suit brought by W. E. Beall against the Providence Hospital for $25,000, failed to agree, and Justice Stafford discharged the panel.

Beall alleged the careless application of a hot-water bottle to his left leg burned the member to such an extent that he has since been troubled with a painful wound.

He was represented by Attorneys M. J. Colbert and J. A. Moriarty. The hospital was defended by Attorneys Hamilton & Brady.

BIG PURCHASE BRINGS STANDARD SUIT PRICES TO LOWEST NOTCH

Friedlander Bros. Make Spot Cash Deal With D. May & Co., Retiring Firm, of Richmond, Va.

Friedlander Bros., 428 Ninth street N. W., are justly proud of their latest bargain triumph—the purchase of a large shipment of men's high grade suits from D. May & Co., for the past 25 years one of the foremost men's clothing houses of the South. Upon their retirement this venerable concern accepted Friedlander's spot-cash offer at a price concession which permits the local store to pass these suits on to men of Washington at a mere fraction of the standard prices.

Nationally-known brands of men's stylish suits are being offered at the phenomenally low prices of $10 $12.50, and $15. All the season's latest models are included as well as all the popular fabrics and weaves of top-notch quality. This is undoubtedly the biggest suit buying opportunity that has presented itself to Washington men in many years.

This gigantic purchase places these famous makes of suits within the reach of Washington men at about 40c and 50c on the dollar. Such bargains are too tempting to overlook.

Particularly timely is the offer of Palm Beach Suits, the most comfortable clothing for summer wear known, at $15.00 and worth considerably more. Such models as the Norfolk and the Pinch-Back and plenty of others for the man of conservative tastes.

Kool-Kloth-Komfort Suits, an especially desirable light-weight make, are being priced during this sale at only $7.50. Silk luster Alpaca Coats are marked at the unusually low figure of $15.50. Men's trousers to match almost any odd coat are included at the low prices of $2.48, $2.15, and $1.98.
